MENTORSHIP PROGRAM
DEAR SENTINELS OF FREEDOM SUPPORTERS AND THE VETERANS WHOM WE SERVE,

2020 was another challenging year in fundraising due to the impacts of Covid and its variants. However, in light of these challenges, with your generous support, we were able to keep our commitments to all the Sentinels in our program and added 44 new Sentinels in 2020, raising our total number of Sentinels served since inception to 627.

Our stated goal is to add 100 new Post-9/11 veterans each year. Meaning that in a few years we could have 100 new Sentinels joining the program, 400 actively pursuing higher education, and 100 graduates each year moving into their prospective career fields.

Some might think that with the departure of U.S. Troops from Afghanistan, there may be little need for our program to continue.

The differentiator from Sentinels of Freedom and other veteran organizations is that we not only focus on veterans who have been wounded in action, but we also serve veterans who have been forced into medical retirement due to severe injuries that they sustained in training accidents, shipboard accidents, aircraft accidents, and other accidents while performing their duties.

In research reports by the Dept. of Defense Actuarial Department, each year as predictable as the sun rising, some 200,000 members of the military branches end their service and return home, whether from 4-year enlistments or 30-year careers. Out of those 200,000, 16,000 are medically retired. Out of that 16,000, 3,000 are retired with disability ratings above 80%. The average disability rating of the veterans our program serves is 90%.

In understanding these numbers, you can see that the need for the services we provide will never end.

Some years ago, a friend asked me about our program and exclaimed, “Isn’t that the job of the Veterans Administration?” My answer remains the same today as back then. “Yes, the VA and the Government have responsibility and services, but what about our responsibility as citizens?”

This is what Sentinels of Freedom is all about. We meet our national responsibility as citizens in providing highly personalized bridge services that the VA cannot provide to fill the gaps that these veterans face in their transition onto higher education and career employment.

The Sentinels of Freedom Foundation is citizen lead and citizen-funded, we have never taken a penny from the Government for our program. I believe this is something to be proud of.

As wars start and end, one thing is an irrefutable fact. We have a responsibility as citizens to these young men and women who volunteer to serve our nation, and who have sacrificed much in doing so, to play a role in helping them onto successful futures. This is the least we can do out of our gratitude to them for what they have done, and what they will certainly provide to our communities as successful, self-dependent veterans. They are worth it.

I hope you will join our mission and cause as we continue to invest in these very worthy veteran’s futures.

Very Respectfully,

MIKE CONKLIN
Chairman & CEO

Due to COVID-19, many of us had to adapt to our new “home offices” and a new way to work. This was also true for our Sentinels who were full-time students and faced with campus closures and a new virtual learning experience.

EDUCATION EXPERIENCE GOES VIRTUAL

Virtual classes during COVID-19 created a difficult environment for our Sentinels to grow accustomed to. Pandemic learning became challenging for a number of reasons:

- No prior experience to remote or virtual learning before March 2020
- Home environment not conducive to productive learning
- Engineering classes are hands-on
- Social distancing in lab settings was difficult
- Hard to grow accustomed to studying while living at home with family

MENTAL HEALTH ISOLATION & SENSE OF UNEASE

Sentinels were faced with lack of community engagement:

- Limited ability to openly contact professors
- Limited access to on campus learning and resources
- Dealing with family deaths and hospitalizations

REASSURANCE

- Scheduled check-ins and completing biannual reviews
- Open communication with Case Manager and help to reorient their goals
- Additional surveys to address shifting needs during pandemic

RESOURCES AND COMMITMENT

- Stand-up desk or other office equipment to create an environment for successful learning
- Treadmill to allow working out at home while gyms were closed
- Financial Resources (Udemy, Dave Ramsey Prog., Financial Coaching)

ONE A SENTINEL
ALWAYS A SENTINEL

Many veterans may experience difficulties when transitioning back into civilian life. Our Sentinels have the additional burden of being severely wounded or injured, which often prevents them from doing what they previously did in the military or other physically demanding jobs. As they struggle to overcome their injuries many may find it can be difficult to envision a rich fulfilling life, but with Sentinels of Freedom, they are welcomed into a family that only wishes to see them succeed. Sentinels are encouraged to reach out long after their official graduation from school to provide updates or seek future support or guidance as needed.

Our program assists wounded or injured veterans in finding their unique paths to a fulfilling post-military life. Sentinel's Bridge for Education helps fill the gaps GI Bill payments do not cover. This allows Sentinels to focus their attention on their studies, career, and family.

The Sentinel's Bridge for Education program is comprehensive, high touch, multifaceted, and based upon each individual veteran’s needs. As our veterans move through school, ongoing assistance is provided in the form of mentoring, life skills coaching, career development, networking, budgeting, financial planning, and more.

YOUR INVESTMENT PROVIDES MORE THAN A BRIDGE TO EDUCATION IT’S A BRIDGE FROM THE LIFE OF SERVICE TO A LIFE OF SELF-SUFFICIENCY IN THE CIVILIAN WORLD.

ASHLEY BIGALKE / U.S. NAVY

Served aboard USS George H.W. Bush in the Persian Gulf and conducted airstrikes in Iraq against ISIS. While stationed in Norfolk as a helicopter mechanic the physical demands of the job took a toll on her body leaving Ashley with constant knee, back, and foot pain and tinnitus due to the loud noises.

Ashley has completed her bachelor’s degree in psychology with a minor in Russian. She is currently pursuing her master’s degree from Hawaii Pacific University in Organizational Development and Change.
Four years ago, before I was even officially retired from the military, I returned back to school and set off on a journey to further my education. To be absolutely honest, I was very scared going back, and my first day walking on campus at San Diego, Mesa College was one of the most nerve wrecking days of my life. Of all my deployments to Iraq and Afghanistan, and all the battles I survived in combat, I was afraid of falling short and failing in the goals I set for myself. Most of all, I had the Sentinels of Freedom who supported and provided me with the tools I needed to set me up for success. This journey was no easy task, and it kept me up many nights in putting forth my best efforts in all that was required of me.

What was most difficult for me during my transition was changing my mindset from a military culture after serving twenty-one years in the Marine Corps, to an academic culture as a student veteran. Of course, I attended several courses in military academies and conducted training exercises during my military career, but attending classes on a college campus was an unusual challenge for me. I had to start from the beginning with taking pre-algebra and entry level English classes, so I could learn how to write a proper academic paper. I was without a computer and I had no way of printing out my assignments, unless I printed them at the library on campus until Sentinels of Freedom provided me with a computer and a printer to help me complete my assignments from my home. What was most beneficial for me, was the financial support the Sentinels of Freedom provided me and my family. Your contribution helped us with cost of living and reduced my rent significantly. That made a huge difference in our life, knowing that my family and I would have a place to sleep and have enough food on our table. This is something that I hope I can pay forward in the future, as I move on to find another career.

Thus, as a Sentinel, I am thrilled to inform you that I have completed my journey in graduating from the University of San Diego, WITH HONORS IN HISTORY. I am also pleased to announce in this letter, that I was the recipient of the Dr. James Gump Award, for Excellence in Department Service. I want to make it clear, that I could not have done this without the help of the Sentinels of Freedom. I was an “F” student in high school, and never in a million years would I have ever imagined graduating from a 4-year university with honors. This is such an enormous achievement for me, and when I sit down and think about it, it brings me tears of joy. I CAN’T BELIEVE I DID IT.

From the bottom of my heart with all my gratitude, I THANK YOU ALL. May God bless you, God bless America, and Semper Fi.

Sincerely and Respectfully,

Simon L. Sandoval
The most beneficial part of SOF was the support that was provided by everyone at SOF. Even with me moving to San Jose and it not working out, they were able to support me in finding me a place. SOF also supported me after my wife passed away, always asking how I was doing and if SOF could do anything to support me.

As mentioned beforehand, my wife, Ashley Elizabeth Martinez-Ayala, passed away on December 20, 2018. That moment in my life has been the most devastating thing to happen to me. It is even worse than being blown up in Iraq, because I lost the person that I loved so much. I honestly thought about quitting school. But I knew that doing that would serve me no purpose, so I decided to continue on. Carol and Mike checked in with me several times to see how I was doing and also with seeing if I needed anything. I was grateful that I had the support from both of them and also from the entire SOF family. SOF even helped me connect with HeadStrong, which is an organization that helps veterans with receiving mental health support with a therapist. I have been able to process not just my grief, but also many other emotions that I had because of my childhood and the military. This is all thanks to SOF.

Now that I have graduated from San Jose State University with a Master in Social Work degree, I have accepted a position at the Department of Veterans Affairs as a Social Worker at HUD-VASH, which helps homeless veterans with finding stable housing, and also help the veteran find resources to be able to treat other issues that might arise with them, i.e. substance abuse or mental health. I am excited for the opportunity as I have been wanting to be a social worker since I got discharged from the military. I am excited to be able to help the population that I feel the most comfortable with.

In this journey of mine, I have learned that as social workers, we are really good at helping others and going above and beyond to take care of those in need BUT we forget to help ourselves. After Ashley passed away, everyone at SOF constantly told me that if I needed anything, and they could provide it, they would. I hesitantly asked for help because of my personality, but SOF went above and beyond in helping me. I learned that there are caring people in this world and that it is ok to ask for help, because we are human beings.

“Abraham's story of commitment to help others, and continued service above self inspires us and gives us strength to carry on with our mission at Sentinels of Freedom. We're proud of you Abraham for letting Sentinels of Freedom into your life in helping you with your objectives and professional goals. Veterans Never Stop Serving!” - Mike Conklin
Chris made the decision to join the Air Force after his daughter was born in order to secure a future for his young family while accomplishing something with his life. He decided very early on that he would use the education benefits available to him and completed his bachelor's degree from American Military University while active duty. Over his 10 ½ years of service Chris deployed to Iraq twice as well as once to Afghanistan, Jordan, and Curacao.

In the summer of 2012, while assigned to SEAL team 2, his team established a camp in a remote area of Afghanistan where Chris spent 5 months as the teams K-9 handler going on approximately 50 missions and being exposed to numerous attacks and altercations with the local Taliban fighters. Shortly after returning home it was apparent that something was not right, and his wife convinced him to see mental health care resulting in a diagnosis of severe Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). Through continued care he has identified his stressors and learned there is nothing that he cannot overcome with the right mindset and support of his family. Through therapy and research, he has learned it is something that is likely to never go away and he must simply be aware of his issues and do the best he can every day.

Chris was accepted to Sentinels of Freedom (SOF) after completing his first semester at Louisiana State University. He was on the verge of giving up due to the financial burden of going to school full-time while also raising a family, in addition to the academic stress of his Juris Doctorate program. SOF provided financial relief where he could focus on his family and school and also allowed his wife, Shana to return to school for a bachelor’s degree. During his time in school, Chris traveled to DC for a summer fellowship opportunity where Sentinels of Freedom was able to provide networking connections. SOF was also there to provide emotional support and accountability while Chris successfully completed his Juris Doctorate in May 2020.

Shortly after completing his degree, his life was turned upside down again when a close family friend unexpectedly passed away. After his passing, Chris became the lead dog trainer at Mandeville Canine Academy, Ted Carlson Dog Training to carry on Ted’s legacy and provide a safe and happy environment for dogs to learn and play while focusing on continued education and constant growth.
Applying for and being welcomed into the Sentinels of Freedom family was one of the most important steps I took that led me to where I am today. The financial assistance I received from January 2018 until April 2020, not only helped me afford to achieve my goal of attaining an advanced degree; it also gave my wife, Shana, the opportunity to go back to school and finish her bachelor’s degree. Shana graduated from Southeastern Louisiana University one day before my graduation date, neither of which would have been possible without the support of Sentinels of Freedom. While I could go on and on about the financial assistance that we received, that was only one aspect of the Sentinels program that made it so beneficial for me and my family. By far the most important part of the Sentinels of Freedom program has been the quality of individuals I have met as a result.

- Sentinel Chris Lamy

“Despite any challenges Chris faced, he was always very positive and energetic with so much passion for what his goals and aspirations were. I always looked forward to my reviews with him to hear how he and his wife were. I especially enjoyed hearing about all of the opportunities and networking events Chris made a point of going after such as his internships in DC, working with different non-profits, and volunteering within his community. It was an absolute pleasure and honor to have been his case manager and a part of his journey!”

After retiring from the U.S. Air Force as a medic following 20 years of service, Alfredo Gaitan was referred to SoF by a fellow parent from his child’s sports team, Sentinel Jose Moreno. Alfredo had started pursuing his education at the University of the Incarnate Word for his bachelor’s degree in Business Administration with a focus on Information Systems.

During his Senior year of studies the internship he lined up was cancelled due to COVID-19 and Alfredo was unsure where he would land for employment following graduation. Sentinels of Freedom introduced Alfredo to 7 Eagle Group who had a new opportunity with Cisco Systems to turn four military Veterans into Penetration Testers. Alfredo was a great fit for the new program and began a 6 month paid internship. He will graduate from the program in October 2021 as a fully qualified Pen Tester with the required certifications and will be given an opportunity to be hired by Cisco Systems as a full-time employee.

"Thank you again for letting me know about 7 Eagle and their mission. Had you not informed me and encouraged me to reach out to Bruce, I would’ve missed out on the great opportunity in which I’m in at the moment. It was definitely a blessing and I’m very grateful for you and the SOF organization. Keep doing the amazing things you do for us Vets!"

2020 OUTSTANDING SENTINELS OF FREEDOM

CORPORATE MEMBERS

Each year Sentinels of Freedom recognizes corporations and their leadership members that have provided outstanding support to the wounded and injured veterans we serve. These corporations and their employees have gone above and beyond in their efforts to make sure that we as a nation provide tangible services and opportunities to our post-9/11 veterans who have served and sacrificed at our nation's call.

The leadership of these corporations and the opportunities they provide through, internships, career development programs, job training, in-kind services, and networking is a testimony not only to their goodwill and respect for our veterans but also a great investment in our communities. They assist our veterans with attaining their ultimate goal of a meaningful career.

Without the tremendous support of corporations, citizens, and communities, we would not be able to help these veterans achieve their goals in education and onto their objectives in each of their careers.

MAKE AN IMPACT THROUGH GUIDANCE

BE A MENTOR

As our severely injured veterans embark on their journey to civilian life, they’ll be guided by mentors who will help them visualize success in order to achieve their goals and overcome obstacles they may face along the way — including a few that might have looked insurmountable at first glance.

From deciding which degree or job to shoot for to learning tactics for financial stability, mentors in this program help Sentinels put the pieces together as they navigate this next, new, exciting phase of their lives, one victory at a time.

“Mentorship at Sentinels of Freedom is very helpful to me because I was able to see new ways of improving myself to be a better individual. My mentor, Bob Michel, guided me what are the best ways I could take to become a better person and mastering the career that I have chosen. Also, he handed me the experiences and knowledge that I could use to help improve myself to be the best version.”

Our Sentinels have the additional burden of being severely wounded or injured, which often prevents them from doing what they previously did in the military or other physically demanding jobs. As they struggle to overcome their injuries many may find it can be difficult to envision a rich fulfilling life, but with Sentinels of Freedom, they are welcomed into a family that only wishes to see them succeed. Sentinels are encouraged to reach out long after their official graduation from school to provide updates or seek future support or guidance as needed.

ANNUAL COMMUNITY EVENT
Annual Military Swearing-In Ceremony

Over the past 22 years, we honor our young graduating students from Monte Vista, San Ramon, California, and Dougherty Valley, Del Amigo High Schools and have made the highest commitment High School students can make, joining our United States Armed Forces.

We are joined with other community members like the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Vietnam Veterans of Diablo Valley, Marine Corps League, Blue Star Moms Chapter 101, The Veterans Memorial Building and Communities of Danville, Alamo, San Ramon, and Blackhawk who aided in supporting these students as they ‘take an oath’ to honor and serve our country.

SoF and the community wish them each well and when they come home whether, in 4 years or 20 years, we will be here to welcome them with open arms.

LAWRENCE LIVERMORE NATIONAL LABORATORY

Every year LLNL does a HOME (Helping Others More Effectively) Campaign, encouraging employees to give back and donate to charities and organizations of their choice. Sentinels of Freedom is one of the organizations chosen to highlight for employees who may want suggestions on where to give.
When I heard from the Sentinels of Freedom that I had been accepted as a scholar in their organization in the spring of 2019 I immediately felt like a weight had been lifted off of my shoulders. I had been simultaneously going to school and working during the first two years of my undergraduate degree, and while my teenage years of working on farms and the Marines had certainly made me accustomed to working hard, I knew it was taking a toll on the amount of effort I was putting towards my education. This, coupled with the difficulties that many of us veterans experience during the transitional period after exiting active duty, were putting a hamper on my ability to pursue goals I had set forth for myself. I knew the financial assistance provided, on top of the myriad of other benefits, would allow me to commit one hundred percent of my efforts and focus on my studies and healing myself, both physically and mentally.

While certainly not lacking for good grades before being accepted as a SOF scholar, my performance at school drastically improved by having the ability to focus all my time and effort on my studies, a direct result of the assistance that SOF provided me. SOFs assistance enabled me to excel in my studies, achieve my educational goals, and due to my stellar performance in the final years of my undergraduate career and the urging of several professors, has allowed me to get to the point where I am now applying to go straight into doctoral programs, something I did not think I would find myself doing until the usual process of pursuing a masters degree program. Although I will not receive the results of my applications for several months, I plan to continue my pursuit of academic studies in the coming years and have no doubt I will receive several letters of acceptance to graduate programs here in Colorado. Due to the pandemic several internship opportunities that I had lined up with the Department of State were postponed but I am very much looking forward to pursuing those while waiting for graduate programs to commence in the Fall of 2021 as the world returns to a sense of normalcy—hopefully.

Regardless of what the coming year will entail, assistance from Sentinels of Freedom over the past two years has enabled me to focus on setting myself up for success in the future and allowed me to be in a position where I could focus on healing myself and helping my fellow veterans. I feel blessed to have been accepted as a scholar and eternally grateful for SOFs assistance over the last few years, and in knowing I have their continued support in the years to come.

Semper fidelis,

Corey Olson
I will say it is hard to leave the military. There is so much known about career progression and an understanding of what is expected of you. There is a group of like-minded men and women that work to achieve the goals of the Department of Defense. We are all kind of on the same page. But when you leave, especially under medical pretenses, that feeling of “the same page” fades quite quickly which was daunting to me.

I found the months of out processing through soldier’s support center’s to feel more like a regular day in the military and less like I was close to leaving. But in the final days as I signed out and there was no ceremony of any kind other than saying goodbye to my peers, I felt a rush of unease. Stepping into a world where you create your own adventure is different than the world of the military and getting used to that was going to take time.

Luckily after my first semester at school I found the Sentinels of Freedom through fellow veterans on Duke’s campus. Being connected with SOF and subsequently receiving the scholarship as well as the resources they offered changed my view of the disconnectedness quite rapidly. I was connected with some of the world-class staff who made me feel welcome and let me know that I’m not the only one in my position of medical retirement and that there are others just like me all of which are under the SOF umbrella. The meeting with the staff and the conversation with the leadership made me feel welcome and brought me to what I believe was the same page as other medically retired veterans seeking higher education. It also is refreshing that there was ample review of what I was doing through my time at Duke University. Being required to fill out information of how I am doing both emotionally, physically, medically, and financially was exactly what I needed to take a moment out of the busy school schedule and think about how I am doing as a person especially one that faces constant medical issues. Every time I sat down and spoke with Carol and the staff at SOF I was reminded that there are great people out there thinking of me and my well-being.

Now that I have graduated, I have taken a senior leadership position at a startup company working to solve the environmental damages caused by toxic waste waters. It is a role that requires my training and leadership as well as decision making. I met the founder of the company when I was taking business classes and I interned with the company when they were very early stage. Thanks to SOF, I was able to receive the scholarship while I was working as an unpaid intern. This level of financial support allowed me to take a chance and work for a company that needed help to get off the ground. I couldn’t have done that without SOF and it paid off! Now I am going to be one of the major decision makers to see the company make real impact in the world. I cannot express how happy that made me and the sense of fulfillment I get from being afforded the opportunity to take such a risk and to have a whole organization like SOF support me on that endeavor.
